A wunderkind, affectionately called Flute J.A. Jayant by many, was born in a musical family. He was naturally drawn into early training on bamboo flute in the tradition of guru-shishya parampara, from age 4 under his grandfather and guru, late Flute .T .S Sankaran, a prime disciple of the legendary Flute Mali. Jayant is recognized as the torch bearer of Flute Mali style of Carnatic flute playing.

With his in-born talent, deep passion, primordial training and the ability to play Raagam Thanam Pallavi (RTP) in three speeds (Trikaalam) in his very first concert at the age of 7, surprised many senior musicians, co-artistes and audience alike.

Jayant has a unique, virtuoso fingering and flute blowing technique to present his music beautifully even in the very difficult lower octaves on the bass and double-bass, thick-walled bamboo flutes, while maintaining shruthi suddham (perfect pitching) and supreme tonal quality. His expressive, graceful (bhaava-laden) rendering bringing out the depth and soul of the lyrical aspects of compositions he presents (gaayaki-form), have consistently won him lasting appreciation from one and all, including senior musicians, co-artistes, connoisseurs and music lovers (rasikaas). His expedient playing and uncanny lyrical expressivity have inspired many flautists of the current generation and the younger crop to imbibe his style. He is the first carnatic flautist to unveil 106 cm long Double Bass (Bansuri) flutes in his performances casting a meditative spell on the listeners and also playing on 15 cm long piccolo flutes.
